

Carando. Perfecting Finer Foods Since 1933. Taste The Tradition.

At Carando, we believe that in order to call a product "Italian" there ought to be some direct ties to Italy! Our "Classic Italian" line features recipes that Peter Carando borrowed from his homeland ... from wine-cured salami to whole dry spices in capicola. Carando meats today are reminiscent of the "Old Country" even after 75 years. Carando Classic Italian meats are available in retail packages in your grocer's meat section, or look for fresh sliced at your favorite deli counter.

CARANDO ANTIPASTO PLATTER

Serves 10 - 20

- 1 head Romaine lettuce, leaves separated
- 6 (4 to 8 oz. ea) assorted thinly sliced Carando® Italian Deli Meats, (capicola, pepperoni, prosciutto, mortadella, genoa salami, soppressata...)
- 1 lb. fresh asparagus, steamed and chilled
- 1 pkg. long thin Italian-style breadsticks
- 1/2 lb. fresh mozzarella cheese, sliced 1/4-inch thick
- 1/2 lb. provolone cheese, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
- 3 to 4 Roma tomatoes, sliced
- 1 can jumbo ripe olives
- 1 jar large green olives
- 1 jar stuffed Italian cherry peppers
- 1 jar marinated artichoke hearts
- 1 jar pickled Italian-style eggplant
- 1 jar roasted red pepper
- 1 bunch fresh basil, chopped
- Italian dressing

Preparation

Arrange lettuce leaves to cover large serving platter.

Arrange Carando Deli Meats, by variety, in different areas of the platter. Sliced deli meats can be rolled, folded in half or folded into quarters. Wrap prosciutto around asparagus spears. Salami or grande pepperoni can be wrapped around bread sticks.

Once deli meats are arranged, place provolone cheese and vegetables in different places on platter. Alternately layer mozzarella and tomato slices in the center of platter. Top with fresh basil and drizzle with your favorite Italian dressing.

Remember, there is no right or wrong way to assemble an antipasto platter. Use your imagination and have fun with it!
